Brilliant Church Wedding.

Seldom has the First Presbyterian church been the scene of a lovelier wedding than when the marriage of Miss Agnes Fleming Hood, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Hood, to Herman Gronemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gronemeyer, of Cleveland, O., was solemnly celebrated at 7 o'clock in the presence of the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom.

A half hour before the ceremony the doors of the church were thrown open and during the intervening time before the arrival of the bridal party a beautiful musical program was played by the organist, Miss Henshaw. The church was particularly beautiful in its exterior decorations, the color scheme of green and yellow being effectively carried out. The windows were banked with smilax augmented by myriads of waxen tapers shedding a soft glow through the auditorium. The altar was banked with greenery and the tall gothic windows were hung with vines of southern smilax, while tall stately palms and ferns were artistically arranged behind a lattice hedge, where groupings of yellow chrysanthemums beside gates which opened into a charming bower of greenery made most effective under the soft glow of the altar candles, forming a pleasing background for the bridal party.

The Lohengrin wedding chorus was played as the bridal party entered the church promptly on the appointed hour.

The ushers, Thomas Rutledge, of Cleveland, O.; William Jacobs, William Hildreth, Lee Hornor, Dr. A. L. Lincoln, of Harrisonburg, Va.; and Dr. Robert Hood, of New York, led the way to the altar, followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Berry, of Baltimore; Miss Helen Fritch, of Baltimore; Miss Grace Haymaker, Miss Virginia Snider, Miss Mary Osborne, and Miss Nina Allen.

The maid of honor, Miss Eugenia Young, of Buckhannon, preceded the bride, who came on with her father and met the bridegroom and his best man, his brother, Karl Gronemeyer, of Cleveland, at the altar.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was held at the home of the bride's parents, the guest list including the wedding party, relatives of the bride and bridegroom, and out of town visitors. The color scheme of the rooms was green and yellow augmented by groupings of yellow chrysanthemums with ferns, palms and southern smilax heavily draped over the window tops and interlacing the stair rail in the reception hall. In the dining room the decorations were most effective in green and white, an archway of southern smilax studded heavily with white chrysanthemums, forming the entrance from the living room. The bridal table at which the wedding party was seated had for its centerpiece a heart shaped wedding cake on a mound of brides roses, valley lilies and maiden hair ferns, augmented by lighted waxen tapers, capped with pale green silken shades from which extended white and green satin ribbons to the covers of each guest.

The place cards and favors were dainty heart shaped creations with bows of bridal tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The bridesmaids' gowns were Nile green taffeta with tunics of gold tulle. They carried bouquets of yellow roses and maiden hair ferns and wore attractive hats of gold tulle. The maid of honor was gowned in yellow taffeta, with tunic of Nile green tulle, a charming hat of gold tulle and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon and satin embroidered in pearls, with tunic of duchesse lace. The court train of bridal tulle and satin, and she wore a full tulle wedding veil caught with a coronet of pearls and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies and brides roses. Before leaving the bride threw her bouquet from the staircase according to an ancient tradition and it was gracefully caught by her maid of honor, Miss Eugenia Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Gronemeyer left later on an extended western trip and on their return will be at home to their friends in Clarksburg.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gronemeyer and Miss Bertha Gronemeyer of Cleveland; Mrs. Frances E. Crane, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hood, of Fairmont; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Talbot, of home at 367 Wilson street from 3 to 12 o'clock Wednesday evening. The rooms were charmingly decorated in the color scheme of orange and black which was carried out throughout the house. Music was rendered during the evening by Goldie Bead, as a Gypsy girl, and Pearl McCormick, as a Quaker maid. A duet was sung by Thelma Hamilton, as a Yama girl, and Ray Holdenbaugh, as a fat man. An instrumental solo was rendered by Burdette Kinnard, as a Jewish boy. Mr. Adam Holshuk, as a Yama man, rendered a very pleasing ghost story. Prizes were awarded to Dewey May, as a junk dealer, and John Reed, as a spook, for having the best and most comical makeups.

Games suitable to the occasion were played. At a late hour a most delicious lunch was served. Those assisting were Mesdames Emma Jarboe and Veda Carne, Charles Kinnard and Paul Morrill. Cider was served in the reception hall throughout the evening by Mrs. Charles A. Nedermier assisted by Miss Mildred Kinnard. Others present were Misses Nell Minard, Margaret Sizer, Kelley, Edna Ann, Garnet Addington and Ruth Nedermier; Messrs. H. Howard, Harry Kinnard, Joe Rathburn, Charles Nedermier, Arden May, Dozel Kelley, Ray Somerville, Jack McChauler, Dorsey McMillan, Charles Cane, William Kinnard, and parents of the hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. ## MINERS HEAR Governor's Scathing Exposure of Cornwell as the Foe of Organized Labor.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)

THAYER, Oct. 26.—Governor Hatfield and John B. Morrison, assistant attorney general, invaded Fayette county and spoke here last night to the largest audience that ever assembled in this mining town to hear a political address. Judge Morrison dealt with national issues in his address and showed the fallacy of the appeal being made by the Wilson administration.

For the support labor, he declared that the imperative need of the nation was to buckle on the armor of protection for the invasion that is inevitable for the United States at the close of the European war. Governor Hatfield was given an enthusiastic ovation by the miners and he bitterly assailed John J. Cornwell as opposed to union labor. He gave many citations of Cornwell's record in the state senate and as a newspaper publisher to show his antagonism to organized labor. The governor dwelt upon the accomplishments of the administration, particularly in regard to the enactment of the workmen's compensation law and declared that the compensation act alone was sufficient to entitle the Republican administration to a vote of confidence.

William Warner, leading coal operator of this place, presided at the meeting and introduced Governor Hatfield as "the best friend the laboring man in West Virginia ever had."

BOY IS JAILED

As Result of the Wounding of Another Boy with a Target Rifle.

Harry Gullin, a boy 13 years old, of Locust street, is a prisoner in the county jail charged with feloniously shooting James Kenna, another boy about the same age who lives in Glen Elk, two days ago. The Kenna boy was shot through a thigh with a target rifle of small caliber and is a patient in St. Mary's hospital. His wound, however, is not serious. The Gullin youth was arrested on Wednesday evening by Deputy Sheriff Laco Wolfe, on a warrant issued in Magistrate W. E. Starcher's court by Kenna, father of the wounded lad.

WILSON

Says He Used to Have Lots of Fun at Chillicothe When a Youngster.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, CHILICOTHE, O., Oct. 26.—President Wilson was greeted here today by a large crowd, including several hundred railroad shopmen. A large bunch of flowers was presented to Mrs. Wilson.
"I used to have lots of fun here when I was a youngster," said Mr. Wilson to the crowd.
A woman in the crowd told Mr. Wilson she hoped the country would remain at peace. "I hope so," replied the president.

RALLY AT MARSHVILLE.
